MAXIMUM PROTECTION MOTOR OILS

HS X3M PERFORMANCE MAXIMUM PROTECTION are high quality, newly engineered, and technically superior gasoline and diesel engine lubricants. These oils are designed not only for the normal or customary engine requirements, but are formulated to meet the extreme demands of today’s high RPM, close tolerance engines, including those that are turbo-charged.

HS X3M PERFORMANCE MAXIMUM PROTECTION have been designed to deliver the ultimate in engine protection for the high-powered/high-tech engines. These oils meet today’s low phosphorus level requirements. By properly balancing the phosphorus levels in the oil, engineers have been able to formulate enhanced lubricants that meet the EPA’s stringent clean air requirements. The low phosphorus design also aids in extending the life of today’s expensive catalytic converters. The high-shear/high-temperature additives protect against thermal breakdown and also provide for longer oil drain intervals.

HS X3M PERFORMANCE MAXIMUM PROTECTION meets or exceed the strict standards set forth by the American Petroleum Institute (API) SN and all earlier API performance classifications or specifications. These oils are available in both mono grade and multi grade SAE viscosity grades (weights). In all viscosity grades, these oils are fully approved for API SN and carry the API SN performance “Donut” which reflects a seal of approval and compliance.

The 10W30 oil is licensed to display the highly coveted API designation as “Energy Conserving” oils and are approved as International Lubricant Standardization and Approval Committee (ILSAC) GF-1 and GF-2 classification oils. These oils are recommended for use wherever the following approval standards are specified: API, SN, SM, SL, SJ, SH, SG.

SAFETY

ULTIMATE UV PROTECTION

WHY BUY

• It is manufactured by the largest manufacturer of window film in the world.
• The quality of the polyester is the clearest and most uncontaminated that exists.
• The color or dye of the film is not on the adhesive. The color is the actual polyester.
• Dyed polyester maintains the stability of the color much longer than dyed adhesive.
• Dyed adhesive runs, smears & discolors when applying. Dyed polyester will not.
• HS Performance Films contains UV absorbers in the adhesive and the polyester which prolong the color stability & add longer life.
• “A Grade” HS Performance Films maintains consistency in color, adhesives, UV protection, lengths & sizes as opposed to “seconds film material” or lesser quality films.
• Our large supply of window film in stock allows quick shipping within 72 hours.
• Quality backed up by the manufacturer. ISO 9001.
• HS Performance Films contains the most durable scratch resistant coating in the market.

For Your Information:

Unlike moving vehicles, buildings have static windows. This means that windows are exposed to constant heat throughout the day. Therefore, it is recommended that DM (XAN) & HP (XAP) films be used on building applications. You can heat form all of our window films from EA, TI, XA, PM (XAR), DM (XAN), HP (XAP), XATT, XR, XS to the security 7 mil polyester. All professional films contain high grade professional non-recycle polyesters.

AIR Films, by Llumar, ensure no signal interference from popular devices such as radios, GPS, keyless entry, cell phones and navigation devices. The unique technology used to produce AIR Blue makes it the most state-of-the-art automotive film today. The Film provides a proprietary non-metalized, non-conductive ceramic technology Film with maximum heat rejection, maximum ultra-violet rejection, excellent optical clarity, and scratch- and corrosion-resistant properties. AIR Films, by Llumar, dramatically reduce irreversible damage to human skin and vehicle interiors due to harmful ultraviolet (UV), visible, and infrared (IR) rays that penetrate ordinary window glass, while keeping the vehicle significantly cooler.

AIR Films, by Llumar, are nano-ceramics films that, thanks to its technology, allow high heat rejection and at the same time high percentage of visible light transmission. In other words, practically clear films reject high levels of heat as dark films do. AIR Films, by Llumar, are light enough to meet visible light transmission laws for windscreens in most countries worldwide. AIR Films, by Llumar, provide the ultimate in comfort and protection as well as an elegant image. They have applications in the automotive and architectural sector. Installed AIR Films, by Llumar, help maintain temperature in interior surfaces of vehicles, offices or homes up to a maximum of 16°C (30°F) much cooler than in comparison with unprotected glass. This reduction in temperature increases the comfort but also reduces the use of air conditioners, helping to reduce costs and fuel consumption. Reflectivity does not reduce visibility at nighttime.

Note: Color is clear with a very light blue tone.
